Comments: This Quilt rests on top of carriage 2A - 2B and is wrapped in muslin.

Contents:

Quilt and pole for hanging, Blue binding, delicate stitching, some raw edges, various fabrics. [approx. 91" long x 95" wide] note: This quilt was hung improperly so there are holes in the top binding where nails and staples were placed. There is also a stain on the upper back of the quilt where the wooded pole rested on the quilt back for many years. The wooden pole was removed as well as the nails and staples on January 26, 2012.

This quilt hung in the back of the library and was created by a class taught by Quilt Artist, Sharon Smith Carty. This quilt may have been donated to the library in 1997, during "A Week Celebrating Women" in 1997. This quilt was the second and final quilt donated by the class called "Quilting as Women's Art." Sample Invitation, Mrs. Philip Space mournfully invites To the Wedding of her son Philip Space Jr. and Sophy Pillow To be Held at Dickinson Hall on April Sixteenth Nineteen hundred and Twenty four. Mourners need not to bring flowers. (all handwritten)

The Wilson table tearfully regret that they will be present at the marriage of Philip Space Jr. and Sophy Pillow on April Sixteenth at Dickinson Hall. They will bring their wedding consolations with them.

Mrs. Wilson gave this bride five presents a toothpick holder, sandwich dish, flowers towel, tin ABC dish, and Lemon grater. All were wrapped in white tissue paper tied with black ribbon.

To Victoria Rosatio

Hark Ye Madame. Once in zed ayes of Normale School A dress we all did make We were very anxious and our hearts did quiver and quake pattern was either too small or too large. The smocking was a sight The place where the flare was hitched on the front, Was anything but right. The sleeves didn't fit in the arm holes at all, And the neck was all out of place, The hem of the dress- sad but true- Came half-way up to my face. The bobbins ran out And the thread would break But at last the thing was done Oh, many the time I've blessed that dress Since the day it was begun. And Sunday when I wore it As I marched in- last in line No doubt the eager (?) audience Just had a wonderful time Counting all the stitches and Watching some of them slip- And every time I'd move my arm They'd hear a gentle r-r-rip. So I prayed a prayer for the tail end kid Who was in such agony And if it lasts until the end I'll give my dress (or what's left) to thee. Bud Deane '27.

-Miss Kuralt
In Springfield this lady abides On the bus- how she rides And she rides We think she should be A gay Wapiti And get here in one or Two strides.

-Miss Wade
At Summer School- how she does smother And quits keeping hours for her brother But someday she may be A great Ph.D which means Doctor of something or other.

-Miss Grout
"The play is the thing"- so they say And we know that you two feel that way For in X-mas vacation Your usual ration Is not less than two shows a day.

-Miss Leyonborg
A college degree is her aim Then some letters will go on her name To Sweden she went On more learning bent Her next goal is the Great hall of Fame.

-Miss Robbins
The deeds of the wild Pango-Pang The antics of the orangoutang Can scarcely amuse her Since she's become used-ter The ways of the dormitory gang-

-Miss Cole
Pepperel is her destination Especially during vacations She knits and she weaves For she firmly believes In having a double vocation.

Miss Wallace
This lady knows planets and stars She also takes trips on the cars Her children are thrilled And seldom get killed When they go to N.Y to see Mars.

Miss Tappan
In New York there's a mamouth stuffed whale Who turns most alarmingly pale When he thinks of the oil Her training school toil Consumes every night without fail.

-Mr. Ward
Loud praises to Allah he sings For "the seasons" that Good Friday brings Whales better beware- and- Tarpons take care When he gets out his tackle and things.

Mr. Merrill
For ice-skates this young man did yearn So to skate on the ice he could learn Old Santa took heed Knew just what he'd need And now he's a regular tern.
-Construction paper cut out of a lizard.
-She "ohs" and she "ahs" All day long She thinks she is singing a song But a small Babirusso Sounds more like Caruso So maybe the lady is wrong.

Miss Williams
Of the movies she sure is a fan She sees them whenever she can No mere Armadillo Can give her the thrill o' Burt Marshall the suave English man.

-Miss Nichols
From the state of the Lone Pine Tree tall She came to give Westfield her ALL On Day Avenue She will gladly greet you Whenever you go there to call.

-Miss Bettinger
She's just had her Master's Degree And now she can chortle with glee At the lemur like actions And similar distractions She sees in this gay company.
